

COPPER STOCKS COTTON REACTS; ARE NOT ACTIVE PRICES LOWER

Calumet, and Arizona Disposition to Realize Profits is Partly Responsible for the Decline.

Uncertain labor conditions again caused a depression on the market Thursday which opened very strong, but in many instances sold off sharply during the course of the morning, according to J. W. Curtis & Co. Hotel Stockers.

Copper was active, Anaconda selling off to $27.60, a loss of 2 1/2 cents, while C. & A. opened with a 2-point over night loss. Impregnation, Kennecott and Utah all sold off fractionally.

CORN RECEIVES A NEW SETBACK IN DAY'S TRADE

Downturn in Price of Hogs Causes Additional Decline.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 23.—Corn underwent a fresh setback in value today, largely as a result of new downturns in the price of hogs. Selling was induced also by the weakness of stocks and by the bolt of the labor delegation from the industrial conference at Washington.

Considerable notice was taken of the unimproving outlook regarding the threatened strike of coal miners. The market price which ranged from 30.00 to 30.25, with December 30.00 and May 30.25.
